

HISTORIANS ARE URGED TO MAKE "RETURN TOUR"

Members of the fifteenth annual historical tour of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania and the University of Pittsburgh summer sessions were invited to make a return tour to Gettysburg at a luncheon session at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday noon.

The luncheon was an intermission stop on a day-long tour of the Gettysburg Battlefield by approximately 130 persons under the guidance of Dr. Frederick Tilberg, historian for the National Park Service.

Burgess William G. Weaver, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the history department at Gettysburg College; Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Battlefield, and Dr. Wilbur E. Tilberg, president of the Adams County Historical Society, all of whom spoke briefly at the luncheon, invited the historians to make an early return visit to Gettysburg.

Commented Fred Tilberg: "Vers W. Adams, director of the University of Pittsburgh summer sessions, was the toastmaster. He commended Dr. Frederick Tilberg for a most interesting account of the battle at a breakfast session at the Penn Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, Saturday morning, and for a fascinating and thorough description of the three days' struggle here in 1863 on the morning tour of the field."

Weaver told the group of the forthcoming observance of the founding of Gettysburg, and how this community has prospered and become famous because of Lincoln's address, President Eisenhower's residency in the community and his two periods of convalescence here. He extended the greetings of the community and invited the historians to return in the early future.

Dr. Fortenbaugh extended the greetings of the college, told of its founding, the part it played in the battle, how it served the community for more than 100 years and how its facilities are being used by President Eisenhower. He said the college "shares in reflected glory the fame of the community." He also invited the group to return for another tour.

Dr. Coleman told of the three great shrines in Southern Pennsylvania, Independence Hall, Gettysburg and Fort Mifflin, and how they had gained their fame and are identified with incidents and events of the Fourth of July. He encouraged a return visit.

Dr. W. E. Tilberg welcomed the group on behalf of the county historians, told of the more than 750,000 visitors who come here annually and how so many things of great importance and significance have happened to and in Gettysburg, the like of which has never happened to any other small community. He told of the Eisenhower's registering to vote here and that the pens they used are in the possession of the historical society. He added, "we preserve the past and prepare for the future."

Dr. Fred Tilberg was presented with a pen by Edward Crump Jr., vice president of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania, for "his fine service to us."

One of the highlights of the South Mountain Rangers' horse show was the award of a pony and the events that followed.

At the second drawing Charles McDannell, of Arendtsville, won. Apparently that settled the prize winner. However, it did not. When McDannell learned that Mrs. Heltzel's son was disappointed because his mother did not accept the award because he wanted a pony, he immediately turned the pony over to him.

HOUSE PASSES "RIGHTS" BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed the hard-fought civil rights bill, sending it to almost certain death in the Senate.

But Southerners who used all weapons against the bill at every stage contended they had achieved their purpose—fatal delay.

There is little chance the bill can get far in the Senate, which is trying hard for adjournment this week.

SAYS SERGEANT SLAPPED HIM BEFORE MARCH

By BEM PRICE

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — A sharp, confident young Marine said today Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon slapped him half-heartedly for failing to stand at attention. The testimony came from Pfc. John N. Maloof of Forest Hills, N.Y., as the court-martial of the 31-year-old former drill instructor from Worcester, Mass., entered its second week.

Last April 8 McKeon led 74 members of Platoon 71 on a night march into the marshes off the rifle range at this training center and six drowned.

Just before the march began, Maloof testified, McKeon called him into his room. He failed to stand at attention and the sergeant began to chew him out. "He came toward me," he said, "raised his hand and his open hand glanced off the left side of my face. Sgt. McKeon was at the end of his rope actually. He tried very hard and he got no results" from the training.

Third Survivor To Testify Maloof was the third of three survivors of ill-fated Platoon 71 to testify.

When McKeon called him in, Maloof said, "Sgt. McKeon said he was going to send us out into the boondocks. We thought it was pretty funny. He was talking about the discipline of the platoon all through our conversation."

Afterward, Maloof continued, "The word had gotten out that we were going to the boondocks and everybody was pretty happy. Joy, I guess."

In telling of that night in which the six recruits drowned within 20 minutes after the march into the water began, Maloof said he stepped off into deep water and "I could taste salt water."

Then, he continued, "There seemed to be a panic. I was floundering. There was a strong current. I knew there was danger immediately. Someone grabbed me and I went down. I got back to higher ground and took off my clothes and went down stream and tried to pull out some of the others."

Windows Broken In School, Shoe Plant

Littlestown police authorities have received reports that a large number of windows at the Littlestown High School building and at the Carroll Shoe Company plant there were broken during last week, apparently by stone-throwing youngsters.

Forty-seven window panes need to be replaced at the school building and most of the damage was due to vandalism, police were told. This morning two windows of Littlestown Joint School district buses, parked near the school, were reported broken, possibly by air rifles.

There were a number of windows smashed at the shoe plant but no exact figure was available today.

Fire Damages Huge Knouse Foods Truck

Tires and paint on a big truck tractor and trailer of the Knouse Foods Cooperative were damaged about 11 o'clock Sunday night when gasoline caught fire as the big tank on the truck was being filled at a company pump near the door to the plant garage at Peach Glen.

While hand extinguishers were used to fight the blaze, nearby fire companies were called. Bendersville, Biglerville and Aspers responded but found the flames were extinguished when they reached the scene.

About 100 gallons of gasoline had been placed in the truck tank when the flames started in some yet unexplainable manner. The garage building did not catch fire.

The loss was estimated today at about $1,000.

"Life's Greatest Treasure"

What is life's most precious thing... what is our greatest need... what person, place or thing is foremost... to make us succeed... some say love is the answer and... the reason for it all... while others deem that faith can make... a person rise or fall... then, too, I've heard it said that smiles... outshine a brilliant star... spreading special kind of joy... to places near and far... friendship is also high among... the prizes of this life... friends help to make the journey smooth... and detour us from strife... none can deny the value of... the things I've set apart... as they are treasures that do much... to make a happy heart... but to my mind, time is the thing... more precious than the rest... for without time there's nothing left... no life, no love, no quest.

RED AID DRIVE IS REPORTED TO BE WORLDWIDE

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators preparing to vote on how much the United States should spend this year on foreign economic aid are pondering a report that Russia's economic offensive now is worldwide.

A Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee last night issued a staff report and Chairman Mansfield (D-Mont.) said it shows that "Soviet economic and cultural representatives are swarming over the globe." The report said that in the past 13 months, the Russian economic aid program has spread beyond a few countries in Asia until it now may be bigger than this country's.

The subcommittee staff mentioned unconfirmed reports that Russia has made more than one billion dollars in economic and technical aid offers to free countries.

Plan To Boost Fund

Tomorrow, the Senate, which has completed the military aid bill, is due to turn to the economic assistance provisions before taking a final vote on the overall measure, now totaling about $4,110,000,000. This is about 685 millions more than the House voted.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) has announced he will seek to reduce by 10 per cent the $1,468,200,000 the bill contains for defense support and other economic aid. Last Friday, Ellender made several unsuccessful efforts to trim the military aid total in the Senate bill below $2,300,000,000.

Also looming tomorrow is a Senate fight over proposals to cut off all new military aid to Yugoslavia because Marshal Tito recently has been nudging closer to Moscow.

Fearful Red Aid

Meanwhile, an apparent reluctance by Russia to help Egypt build the $1,300,000,000 Aswan dam in the Nile River came as a relief to some State Department officials. They had feared the Soviets would try to capitalize on withdrawal last week of an American-British-World Bank offer to put up 400 million dollars toward construction of the dam.

What gave these U.S. diplomatic officials a lift was a statement by Russian Foreign Minister Dimitri Shepilov over the weekend that Russia has no present intention of helping finance the Egyptian project. Shepilov said Russia is interested more in fostering Egypt's industrialization.

This country withdrew its offer last week chiefly because officials felt Egypt had tied up its economic resources for years to come to buy arms from the Communists, bloc.

REPORT DROP IN FARM RECEIPTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Agriculture Department today reported a more than 12 million dollar decline in cash receipts from marketings by Pennsylvania farms for the first five months of 1956.

Secretary of Agriculture Dr. William L. Hennig said cash receipts were down $12,367,000 compared with the same five-month period last year.

Federal-state surveys showed a national decline of slightly less than $100,000,000 which the department considered "fairly steady."

Hennig noted that farm cash income has been declining in Pennsylvania since the record high of $38 million dollars was reached in 1952. The only exception was a 25 million dollar gain last year over 1954.

The secretary said total January-May farm cash income in Pennsylvania came to $300,650,000 compared to $313,071,000 for the first five months of 1955.

He said that January was the only month so far this year that farm cash income in the state exceeded receipts for the same month in 1955.

January income was up about one million dollars but declines totaled about 3 millions in February, 6 millions in March, 4 millions in April and $500,000 in May.

The average prices received by Pennsylvania farmers shows a continuous decline since last Dec. 15 and on June 15 the drop totaled 15 points. The index then was 228 per cent of the 1910-14 base level.

DECLARES RED CHIEF DIRECTED BLOOD PURGES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Describing Russia's bosses as "godless men," FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover says Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev has directed blood purges and Soviet President Klement Voroshilov once bragged about executing 11,000 Czarist officers.

Voicing his distrust of Russia's chiefs, Hoover said, "I would certainly want to see acts of indication of peaceful coexistence rather than mere words."

Hoover discussed the backgrounds of Khrushchev and Voroshilov in a filmed television interview yesterday, saying that "men of that kind have no character."

He said Khrushchev was in charge of purges in Moscow and the Ukraine, and that in the Ukraine "he insisted, under Stalin, some of the most extreme anti-Semitic measures."

Betrayer Officers

Voroshilov, he said, once "openly boasted" to William C. Bullitt that he ordered the officers put to death at Kiev after they had surrendered and their families would be allowed to go home safely. Bullitt was U.S. ambassador to Moscow in 1933-1936.

Hoover said Voroshilov also told Bullitt he had executed all the sons of the officers and had put their wives and daughters into brothels "for the use of the Red army."

One of Hoover's aides said this happened during the 1917 Russian Revolution. Voroshilov then was in command of Red armies at Kiev in the Ukraine.

President Eisenhower's Health Will Be Big Campaign Issue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A weekend flood of Democratic comment on President Eisenhower's health effectively removed any remaining doubts on whether the subject will be a 1956 campaign issue.

Eisenhower himself helped open the dikes with an offhand comment in Panama that "I haven't much strength but I keep going." Reporters also heard him precede the remark with a statement that he was feeling fine.

Eisenhower made the comment during a wreath-laying ceremony at the Inter-American Presidents Conference.

Still recuperating from an operation six weeks ago, he looked chipper at the Panama meeting. Later, he appeared to tire in the sweltering heat of a long program, but seemed to stand it better than some of his fellow presidents.

Homefront reaction to Eisenhower's comment, however, was swift.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler used it as a springboard to speculate that Eisenhower might not be the Republican candidate this year after all.

Butler quoted Eisenhower as saying some months ago that his status as a candidate would depend on his health at the time of the GOP National Convention.

Now, Butler said, "we read that although he was feeling fairly well, that he was feeling quite weak, but trying to keep going on with his duties."

Butler said the President's health will be a campaign issue and "it is already an issue in the minds of the U.S. people."

Mrs. Katie Louchheim, director of women's activities for the Democratic National Committee, said it is a legitimate campaign issue because "the people are talking about it, the press is talking about it and the President is talking about it."

People Have Confidence

Miss Bertha Adkins, her GOP counterpart, replied in a televised debate that the people have "great confidence" that Eisenhower would not be seeking another term "unless he thought he was equal to it."

In another television appearance, Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said he thinks Eisenhower's health should not be a campaign issue, but "the people of my state have a legitimate right to know the state of Mr. Eisenhower's health."

Carmine DeSapio, political mentor to Gov. Averell Harriman of New York in Harriman's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, said, "For the past 10 or 12 months we haven't had a president in the White House."

DeSapio said "a so-called 'team'—a group of individuals who are not responsible to the people, who were not elected by the people—have been pretty much running our government."

None of the comments mentioned Eisenhower's widely publicized Sept. 24 heart attack or his June 9 intestinal operation, but all obviously referred to their effect on his ability to put in four more years in the White House.

eral call for aid.

Two fires were started at separate sites and a number of simulated wounded were placed for evacuation at various places in town. These, marked with type of injury, were conveyed in the rescue trucks of the Hanover and local company to the McSherrystown fire hall and turned over for practice treatment to first aid workers.

A relay was set up with most of the fire trucks taking part in extinguishing the two fires. Firemen reporting that in 32 minutes from the receipt of the first call, all companies were at the scene, over 3,000 ft. of hose laid out and the fires extinguished. Members of the Happy Ramblers Motorcycle Club served as scouts and spotters for property damage and wounded.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the

The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Gettysburg: We learn that, on account of the large amount of business in the quarter sessions at the August term, the cases in the Common Pleas have been postponed, by consent of parties, to an adjourned court which will probably be held on the last week of September.

The annual commencement of Franklin and Marshall College, located at Lancaster, took place last week. Among the graduates, upon whom the degree of A.B. was conferred, we notice the name of Calvin Marsh Duncan, of Cashtown, and Walter Emanuel Krebs, of Winchester, Va., formerly of this place.

The coroner's inquest in relation to the late dreadful railroad accident is still in progress, but the evidence is only a repetition of the first accounts of the calamity. The total number of dead, so far, is 63, and some 6 or 7 more will probably die. The excitement is rapidly dying off, but still there are many hearts deeply lacerated, who entertain anything but kind feelings for those through whose carelessness they have been bereft of kindred and friends.

The Whig State Committee of New York has called a convention to be held on the 14th of August, to nominate delegates to the National Whig Convention to be held at Baltimore on the 3d Wednesday of September. The Committee passed resolutions recommending Whigs to support Mr. Fillmore for the Presidency.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Rapidly Recovering: The President (Garfield) has improved so rapidly during the past week that his full recovery is now confidently expected by the attending physicians. Day by day he grows stronger, with increasing appetite and less fever — everything pointing to an unexpectedly early recovery. (Referring to attempted assassination of the President.)

The recovery of President Garfield and the defeat of Senator Conkling settle the question of bosses and bossism in the Republican party.

Littlestown: There has been an unusual amount of night rowdiness in our town of late. This growing evil, fostered and developed by the increasing number of hotels and liquor stores, is a source of inexpressible regret to parents and not a few of our better citizens.

Drs. Gettler and Weaver, who were both sick, the former suffering from sore throat, the latter from severe attack of colic, are about again attending to the claims of their profession.

Col. Ephraim Myers and wife will leave home on Tuesday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Dr. Stoner, now residing in the state of Maine. They expect to be absent from town about three weeks.

Today's Talk

ONE WITH ALL

Not until some great catastrophe occurs do we feel the interdependence of us all. Our kindly emotions are stirred as we learn of the misfortune of others. A nation's health depends upon its commerce. This is a time of interdependence among scores of different organizations, so that a strike against one is a strike against the many.

We are one with all, and until we meet on common ground, around a discussion table, troubles are sure to grow and grow. In a war all suffer. One of the great dreams of the world is the organization of the United Nations. If it turns out finally to be a genuine effort to bring all nations together for the good of all then will that dream of so many come true.

Each of us has inherited the common traits of all. We may come from scores of nationalities, colors, or creeds, but that thread of humanity runs through all. It is amazing that it all has worked so well! But what an opportunity for tremendous improvement!

We cannot look into the eyes of a single human being without seeing something of ourself there. And mostly it is a kindly invitation for friendship and a show of that friendship. Why should the world be so far apart in its people's determination to put an end to all wars, and institute the glory of permanent peace throughout the world?

I hear it said that we must keep armed to the teeth in the interest of peace. But a person would not go around all day and night with a big gun in his pocket if he didn't feel that the time would come when he would have to use it. He would not carry that gun for the fun of it! The people of the world hate war and all that it carries with it. Put to a vote the final count for permanent peace would be overwhelming. Let us pray that universal peace may be on its way.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Good That We Have"

THE IGNORANT FRIEND

He doesn't know a certain cure
For every kind of cold;
He doesn't tell you what to do
To keep from getting old.
He hasn't had the self-same aches

That trouble you today;
And if he had, he doesn't tell
What drove them all away.

He doesn't know about a house
That ought to suit you well;
He doesn't know an ancient tale
That he delights to tell.
He doesn't tell you what to do
Or what to say or write;
He doesn't even know a place
Where fish will always bite.

He's ignorant of everything
Concerning your affairs;
He never knows just what you need

And, what's more, never cares.
He seems to take for granted that
You know as much as he;
I guess that is the reason why

Accident: On Wednesday week, George W. Weikert, ex-policeman, formerly of this place, now residing in Freedom township, had a serious mishap. He had been hauling hay with a three horse team, and drove to the house of a little girl. The latter went into the house to wait on her sick mother. When Mr. Weikert came out the team had disappeared, but he saw the lead mare on the over-shoot of the barn, her legs protruding through the floor. The team had run into the barn floor and the mare broke through the floor of the off-shoot. Mr. Weikert endeavored to extricate the mare with the assistance of his daughters, but failed, getting his foot mashed, his collar-bone cracked and his lip badly bruised. He sent to some of his neighbors, with whose assistance the mare was extricated, her legs badly skinned, but no bones broken.

20 LOSE LIVES
IN ACCIDENTS
OVER WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 20 persons, nine of them children, died violently in accidents throughout Pennsylvania over the weekend. Twelve deaths came on the highways.

Four members of a Geneva, Ohio, family were killed Saturday when their plane crashed into rugged terrain near Windber.

Three men were killed Friday night in an auto-truck collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Bedford.

Another turnpike crash Sunday near the Fort Littleton Exchange in Fulton County, killed a Norris-town man and his daughter.

Two 8-year-old Bethlehem boys were killed Sunday night in another automobile accident in Bethlehem.

Plunges Over Dam

And on the Allegheny River at Natrona, workers combed a wide area trying to determine if more than one person had been drowned when a boat plunging 12½ feet over the dam at Lock 4 Sunday night.

The victims of the plane crash were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuttle, their daughter, Patricia, 16, and a son, Charles, 9. The cause of the crash was not determined but Coroner Orbert Halverson of Somerset County said there were indications the weather was a contributing factor.

The three men killed near Bedford were Donald Leighty, about 26, Scottsdale, Pa.; James Buttermore, 13, Mt. Pleasant, R. 3, and Joseph Modie of Levittown. Joseph Termino, 28, and his 3-year-old daughter, Jo Anne, were the victims of the Fulton County crash—resulting from two cars skidding. Six others were injured in the accident.

Hits Tree

Robert Hartzell and Joseph Kluge were both riding with Hartzell's father in Bethlehem Sunday night when their car hit a tree. The father, William Hartzell, and two others were injured.

At Natrona, the body of an unidentified middle aged woman was recovered last night shortly after the boat went over the dam but no trace of them was found.

Freak accidents accounted for several lives.

Joseph G. Phillips, 10, of Franklin, was killed Saturday when he hammered on an old, discarded artillery shell and it exploded.

Dies In Washer

Three-year-old Mary Alice Kelly crawled into the family's new automatic washer Saturday night at Philadelphia with her pet kitten. She suffocated.

2 ASK TO FILE
AGAINST FIRM

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—Two women had petitions before Northumberland County Court today seeking permission to file late claims against the J. H. Drass and Co. brokerage house, now in receiver ship.

Mrs. Beulah Glass, Bloomsburg, and Laura F. Heim, Danville, asked the court to allow them to file claims totaling $1,369 against the firm.

March 12 Deadline

Deadline for filing was last March 12 but the court ordered James J. Kerwin, receiver for the Sunbury firm, to show cause why the two new claims should not be accepted.

The court placed the Drass company in receivership last Sept. 15 after the Pennsylvania Securities Commission said the firm's accounts showed a $100,000 shortage. It is one of the largest brokerage houses in central Pennsylvania with 300 active accounts.

BABY IS FOUND
AFTER 21 HOURS

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Her feet swollen and her blonde hair hanging in loose wisps, 2-year-old Sandy Barcus was found safe and unharmed yesterday in the mountain wilds where she wandered for 21 hours.

The youngster was taken to Boulder Community Hospital, where doctors said she suffered mild exposure and minor scratches.

Sandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior William Barcus of Superior, Colo., became lost Saturday while her family picnicked in the Rocky Mountain foothills near Nederland, 18 miles west of here. They left her asleep in their truck. Scoutmaster Glen Powers, an engineer, and 11 members of Boulder Troop 77 found Sandy beside the swift-flowing Middle Boulder Creek. She was barefoot and dressed only in a red dress and a light jacket.

"Sandy kept saying, 'My mommy told me,' Powers told reporters. But he said she never explained what her mother had told her.

The tot had been the object of a mountain search by nearly 200 men and women.

SHIPS COLLIDE
IN DENSE FOG
OFF NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—A small combination cargo-passenger ship and a tanker collided in dense fog off the Atlantic off New York at 1:10 a.m. today.

Both ships were damaged. One passenger and one seaman on the combination ship were injured slightly.

The Fairisle, inbound from Tampa, Fla., with a cargo of citrus fruit and paper, transferred a number of passengers and crewmen to a Coast Guard boat, which brought them into port.

At least seven passengers were listed among those rescued. From 22 to 32 crewmen also reportedly rode in the Coast Guard boat.

The passengers included five women and two men.

Some crewmen were believed to have been left aboard.

The Fairisle radioed to Coast Guard area headquarters: "We will remain afloat, but starboard list increasing."

Ships Standing By

Coast Guard cutters and smaller craft stood by at the scene of the collision, near Ambrose lightship and 23 miles from the Battery, southern tip of Manhattan.

The other damaged ship was the San Jose II. She radioed: "We do not require assistance. Some damage to forward portions."

After a brief attempt to pick its way through the fog back into the harbor, the San Jose II dropped anchor to await lifting of the fog.

The Fairisle was due today at Port Newark, N. J., across from Manhattan. It is listed by Lloyd's register as 6,065 gross tons and owned by the Waterman Steamship Corp. Its home port is Mobile, Ala.

The San Jose II left Port Newark last night. Lloyd's lists the ship as of Panamanian registry, and of 11,010 gross tons. Its home port is Panama.

Braves Sweep Pair From Phillies As They Adopt Old Dodger System In Pennant Race; Redlegs In Split

By JOE REICHLER

The Associated Press

It took Milwaukee's Braves nearly four years to learn the formula that has won so many pennants for the Brooklyn Dodgers, but now that they appear to have solved it, they're going to be tougher than ever to knock out of first place.

The formula? It's the ability to pound the daylights out of the opposition on home ground.

Yesterday the Braves climaxed their most successful home stand since they moved to Milwaukee by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia 8-7 and 16-6. That boosted their National League lead to three games over Cincinnati and gave them a record of 15 triumphs in a 20-game home stand.

Dodgers Take Three
Not in any of their three previous seasons did they reach the .600 level at home.

When the Dodgers won the flag in 1955, they played .779 ball at home. Last year they played .727 ball at Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers took two from St. Louis 5-3 and 4-3 and moved to within three lengths of the Redlegs, who were held to a split by Pittsburgh. The Redlegs pounded three home runs to defeat the Pirates 9-2 in the nightcap after Pittsburgh had won the opener 8-6.

Cubs Pass Phils

Chicago's Cubs climbed into sixth place, past the Phillies, by downing the New York Giants twice 4-1 and 2-1.

The New York Yankees first-place American League margin was reduced to 9½ games when they divided a doubleheader with Kansas City while the Indians were defeating Baltimore 8-0 in a single game. After Kansas City had won the opener 7-4, the Yankees came back to win the second game 13-4.

In single affairs, Boston out-slugged Detroit 8-6 and the Chicago White Sox subdued Washington 6-1.

25 Hits For Braves

The Braves amassed 25 hits, 15 for extra bases. After struggling to eke out an 8-7 first-game victory over Robin Roberts, they ran up their highest scoring total in the nightcap, including an eight-run fifth inning. Led by Joe Adcock, Eddie Mathews and Bobby Thomson, who had two homers apiece, they clubbed seven four-base blows off Philly pitching.

Home runs also decided the Pirates-Redleg twin bill. Bill Virdon, Lee Walls and Dale Long furnished the big blows for the Pirates in the opener although it was a bases-loaded single by Jack Sheppard in the ninth that snapped a 6-6 tie. Gus Bell and Bob Thurman belted two-run homers for the Reds in the nightcap to help Joe Nuxhall gain his seventh success. Nuxhall aided his cause with a four-bagger, his second of the year.

32nd For Mantle

The Dodgers got effective pitching from Carl Erskine and Sandy Koufax. Erskine hurled a seven-inning opener, Catcher Rube Walker drove in three runs with a home run and double against loser Bob Blaylock. Successive two-out singles in the ninth by Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges produced what proved to be the winning run in the nightcap.

Bonus right-hander Don Kaiser checked the Giants with four hits in the opener for his third victory as Eddie Miksis and Solly Drake drove in two runs apiece against Johnny Antonelli. Sam Jones and Turk Lown combined to limit the Giants to five hits in the nightcap. The Cubs scored the winning run in the eighth on Dee Fondy's double, an infield out and a passed ball.

The A's scored five times off Junior Johnny Kucks in the third inning of the nightcap to sew up the game. Vic Power got four of the winners' 14 hits. One of the Yankees' seven blows off starter Alex Kellner and winner Art Ditmat was Mickey Mantle's 32nd homer.

11th For Wynn
Early Wynn spaced six Baltimore hits for his 11th victory and Cleveland pounded three pitchers for 17 hits including Vic Wertz's 23rd home run.

Mickey Vernon drove in five runs with a home run and single to help Tom Brewer record his 13th victory for Boston.

Les Moss cracked a pair of homers for Chicago as Jack Harshman stopped Washington with five hits for his seventh success.

GREENBERG AND JOE CRONIN IN HALL OF FAME

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Hank Greenberg and Joe Cronin officially took their places as members of Baseball's Hall of Fame today in this picturesque village where Abner Doubleday is said to have invented baseball 117 years ago.

Greenberg is general manager of Cleveland, and Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Greenberg, 45, grew up in New York but was passed over by John McGraw of the Giants before he got his chance with Detroit. The 6-foot-3½ slugger, who played both first base and left field, hit 58 homers for the Tigers in 1938. When he finally stepped down after playing at Pittsburgh in 1947 to go into the Cleveland front office, his lifetime batting average was .313 and he had hit 311 home runs.

Now Includes 81
Cronin, 49, came from San Francisco to break into the majors with Pittsburgh in 1926 but moved to Washington and Boston to play shortstop and manage for the rest of his career. When he broke an ankle in 1945 and was forced to move into the executive end of the sport, he had a lifetime average of .32 and had collected 2,285 hits.

The Hall of Fame now includes 81 members, selected by the Baseball Writers Assn. or a special veterans committee.

New rules for admission were adopted yesterday at the annual meeting of the Hall of Fame Assn. The most noteworthy change provided for elections to the Hall of Fame every two years instead of annually.

BURKE WINS IN QUARTER FINAL; FACES FURGOL

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—When Jackie Burke won the Masters Golf Tournament last spring, he figured it might be the breakthrough that would end his career as all-American runner-up.

Until then the 33-year-old Texan had never come closer than second in any major tournament.

Today, going into the semifinals of the 38th Professional Golfers Assn. Championship, Burke had a chance to win his second big one in less than a year.

Kroll vs. Johnston
"It ought to be a little better at 36 holes," he said after yesterday's 4 and 2 quarter-final victory over Freddie Hawkins, "but I feel as if I've had it. It's rough out there in those 18-hole matches."

Burke faced Ed Furgol, the 1954 National Open champion, in one 36-hole semifinal. Furgol, whose determination to become a golfer overcame the handicap of a withered left arm, is a rugged opponent in any match.

The other semifinal sent Ted Kroll, Port Lauderdale, Fla., against Bill Johnston, a 31-year-old teaching pro from Provo, Utah, who is slightly amazed at reaching the semifinals in his first fling at this grueling tournament.

Amazing Recoveries
Bone-weary after yesterday's two rounds, Furgol exclaimed:

"Look at what happened to me out there. That fellow was in the rough five times in eight holes and he had me three down."

"That fellow" was Teri Johnston, a dapper club pro from Wilmington, Del., who came up with a series of amazing recoveries after bad drives. Johnston had escaped from some seemingly hopeless positions in the morning fourth round to catch Toby Lyons of Jamestown, N.Y., on the 18th and beat him on the 19th.

He grabbed an early lead against Furgol, led 3-up after the eighth and wasn't overtaken until the 15th.

Snead Is Beaten
Burke, who has been playing the 6,634-yard Blue Hill course as if he had the first mortgage on it, had no such difficulties in his two matches. Each time he shot 3-under-par 33s on the front nine and he was behind only once all day.

Kroll, a tough campaigner who suffered four war wounds, made certain that a brand new champion will be crowned tomorrow when he belted out Sammy Snead 2 and 1 in the quarter-finals. Snead is a three-time PGA champion.

Three other ex-champions—Gene Sarazen, Jim Turnesa and Walter Burkemo—were knocked out in the fourth round yesterday morning along with former open champion Lew Worsham. Snead took care of Sarazen decisively and Kroll beat Turnesa.

Johnston, the undismayed up-set-producer of the tournament who never has won an important title, knocked out Burkemo. Then he went on to whip Henry Ransom, Worsham's conqueror, 3 and 2.

Bendersville hiked its margin over second-place Mummasburg in the South Penn Baseball League to two full games on Sunday, the league-leaders topping Littlestown 7-2 while Mummasburg bowed to the red hot Hunterstown outfit 7-4.

A four-run outburst in the last of the eighth inning put the clincher on for Bendersville after a tight game for seven frames.

Littlestown scored a run in the first inning on a double by Warner and single by Crouse, and added another in the second when Kump was hit by a pitched ball, Feiser singled, and two fielders' choices followed.

Bendersville tallied in the last of the second. Pitzer doubled and Kluck walked, both advancing on a passed ball. Pitzer scored on P. Kuntz's sacrifice fly. In the sixth Bendersville took the lead on two runs. M. Kime was hit by a pitched ball, D. Kime singled, a squeeze bunt by Decker scored M. Kime and a wild pitch enabled D. Kime to score. A pair of errors, single by Decker, double by Pitzer and a sacrifice by Black was good for four Bendersville tallies in the eighth to ice the game.

9th Straight Win
Hunterstown's onrushing club scored three times in the 11-inning to trip Mummasburg 7-4 on the latter's field and move within half a game of second place. It was the ninth straight victory for Hunterstown.

Each team collected 11 hits, Heyser going the route for the winners while Woodward and Cullison divided the pitching for Mummasburg. Johnny Little poled a triple for Hunterstown while Johnny King again was strong on the defense.

Harney Wins First
A squad shakeup by Manager "Slim" Deatheridge of Harney paid dividends as the cellar team won over invading Greenmount 8-3 for its first victory of the campaign after 15 straight losses. Deatheridge dropped six squad players last week who had not been reporting for practices. Dougherty and Crouse formed the winning battery.

Brushtown edged Bonneauville 5-3 on the loser's field to move into a tie with its vanquished opponent for fifth place.

JAMES J. PARKER FIGHTS MOORE ON WEDNESDAY

By JACK HAND

The Associated Press

Archie Moore, self-styled heavyweight champ, and James J. Parker, claimant of the British Empire crown, top the week's boxing program with a 15-round match Wednesday at Toronto's Maple Leaf Stadium.

Although Moore, the 4-1 favorite, is recognized by no boxing commission as heavyweight king, promoter Jack Solomons is billing the bout "for the world's championship."

Moore, 39, or 42, depending on what records you follow, has won nine straight since he was knocked out by Rocky Marciano last September in the champ's last fight.

Beat Arthur
Parker's claim to fame is a decision over Johnny Arthur in Toronto Jan. 9 for the Canadian version of the British Empire crown and a knockout over Heinz Neuhaus, former European champ, in the third round of an April 29 match at Dortmund.

The Canadian Boxing Federation says the Moore-Parker winner will be recognized as "the best uncrowned heavyweight in the world." There will be no radio or TV.

Other Fights Of Week
The Wednesday radio-TV (ABC) dish will be welterweights from Chicago Stadium, where Isaac Logar of Havana and Jed Black of Janesville, Wis., will meet.

Miguel Berrios, the persistent Puerto Rican with a growing TV following, gets another Madison Square Garden bout on the Friday series (NBC radio-TV) against Kid Anahuac Umberto Martinez, a new face from Mexico.

Welters also top the Monday show at St. Nicholas Arena in New York, where Danny Giovannelli of Brooklyn and Gennie Polier of Niagara Falls, N.Y., will box.

Polier is a St. Nick's favorite after several smashing performances while Giovannelli is trying to get back on the winning side after showing great early promise.

Do Mont will telecast to some sections.

EX-CLERK NOW HAS 5 MILLION REEL BUSINESS

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

Tom Lenk has combined trout fishing, a $12 a week job and an Army career into a five million dollar a year business.

When Lenk was in his teens he had seen much of spin fishing in Europe. He liked the tackle used. At 18 he left his native Austria for America and became a stock room clerk for a firm importing human hair, buffalo hide and silk-worm gut for sutures.

While learning the importing business he had in the back of his head how trout were caught on light line and spinning tackle.

In August, 1942, Lenk was drafted. Four months later he became a citizen and three months later he got his commission from officer candidate school at Fort Bragg, N. C. He put in almost four years in the Pacific and was discharged a captain.

Combined For Start
"I only realized while overseas how many servicemen wanted to take up fishing," says Lenk. "What I saw in Europe, learned in the importing business and heard in the Army helped me get started."

I learned that one out of every six Americans go fishing. I saved a few dollars and borrowed a few, then borrowed a top of that. "I imported 500 spinning reels from France and gave 300 away. I was in business."

That was in 1948. Lenk did $3,000 business his first year and says he spent $8,000.

Lenk says fishing with a spinning reel is so easy that it is now catching on with women anglers who never before went fishing. "It is taking some women from the home and into a sport they once frowned upon," he says.

Lenk, now 36, imports spinning reels and lures from France and Sweden. From West Germany he imports agate rod guides and a playl monofilament line, a light but durable synthetic.

Reel Sets Record
Lenk says one of his salt water imports was used when Willard Cravens landed a 360-pound sturgeon on Snake River, Idaho, last April. "It was the largest fish ever landed on rod and reel in fresh water," says Lenk.

Today Lenk, a handsome dark-haired resident of Hillsdale, N. J., is vice president of the firm with which he started as a $12 a week clerk 18 years ago. And he spends a good part of his time using the spinning outfits he imports.

"Trout" says Lenk. "Later this summer I hope to catch striped bass and tuna on the same tackle used to catch that 360-pound sturgeon."

Almond Eyes, Native Dancer's full sister, was purchased for $40,000 by Mrs. Lloyd P. Tate.

STEELWORKERS ACCEPT BID TO RESUME TALKS

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers have accepted an industry proposal to resume contract talks in New York tomorrow in an effort to end the 23-day-old steel strike.

The talks were arranged last night in a brief telephone call from the industry's top negotiator to USW President David J. McDonald.

Only a few hours earlier McDonald had issued a statement bitterly critical of the industry's pricing policy. He said for each $1 increase in labor cost since 1945, exorbitant price increases have yielded $3.19 in additional revenue.

Caught By Surprise

There was no immediate reply from the industry.

One of McDonald's close associates said the union chief was caught by surprise when John A. Stephens, vice president of U. S. Steel Corp., called and suggested negotiations resume. When the latest series of negotiations ended Saturday, both sides indicated they would wait for the government to make the next step.

Federal mediator Joseph F. Finnegan, who returned to Washington, emphasized the government had not pressured the industry or the union to get together again.

No Sign Of Change

There was no public indication that the industry had officially changed its proposal. That called for a 52-month contract which, the industry said, would provide a package wage boost giving the 650,000 strikers 17 2/3 cents an hour in the first year. The union estimated the offer at 14 cents an hour for its men, who had averaged $2.46 hourly.

The decision to resume peace talks raised the question here that

Reilly Raiders Win State Legion Award

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania Legionnaires wound up their 39th convention Saturday with some 5,000 defying murky skies to march in the annual parade.

The Reilly Raiders of Philadelphia were judged tops among the Class A drum and bugle corps units in the parade for the second straight year. Archer-Eppier, Upper Darby, Pa., was second.

The Willow Grove unit was awarded top prize among Class A bands, with Blainsburg second.

In the Class B band division, New Castle was first, followed by Dallastown. Bellefonte won top honors among Class C bands, with Artisans Memorial second.

Among the drum and bugle corps, Williamsport was the Class B winner and Milton the runnerup. Tyrone was first in Class C and Latrobe second. In Class D, West Reading, was awarded top honors, with Liberty Bell of Philadelphia second.

the industry might now be preparing to present a formal revision of its contract proposal. In the discussions here last week the best information was that no concrete proposal had been made by either side but there were discussions on a three-year contract. The union reportedly was cool to the idea.

In Fourth Week

As the strike went into its fourth week—and more than 100,000 in allied industries were furloughed—Steel magazine said the "heat will be on" to end the walkout soon. It declared that unless the strike is settled before the Democratic National Convention, which starts Aug. 13, "the Democrats would have some good talking points about industry and labor suffering during a Republican administration."

But, the magazine said, if the industry is back at work by convention time "the Republicans will be able to point with pride at a record of no interference by government in the internal affairs of management and labor."

McDonald, in his statement attacking the pricing policy of the industry, said he was sending copies to members of Congress and the Cabinet, among others. In the statement, he said:

Won't Affect Prices

"Materials costs since 1947 have risen about 28 per cent but steel prices in the same period have risen 78 1/2 per cent—an excess of price increases over cost increases—both labor and material together—of nearly three to one."

McDonald also said wages can be increased without prices being raised. He declared:

"Indeed, any inflationary tendencies that may exist in our economy stem not from wage and salary increases, which are vitally needed, but from pricing policies of industry generally and, particularly, the steel industry."

Cohen Rules State Turnpike Commission Has No Authority To Local Future Extensions

HARRISBURG (AP) — A State Justice Department ruling today stripped the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of its authority to locate future extensions and maintain the 408-mile superhighway.

A ruling by Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen declared that the State Highways Department and not the Turnpike Commission is largely responsible for maintaining the toll road.

The opinion was handed down as Commission Chairman G. Franklin McSorley promised a retention of present passenger car tolls and a possible reduction in truck charges next month.

The Justice Department ruling in effect transferred to Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler much of the authority now exercised by the commission including control of about 500 maintenance workers.

Differ Over Operations

Lawler is an ex-officio member of the commission. Both he and McSorley are Democrats but have differed at times over turnpike operations.

McSorley declined immediate comment on the Cohen ruling.

The chairman's statement on tolls over the weekend supported a report submitted to the commission last Wednesday by Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester, Pa., consulting engineering firm. The commission was urged not to increase auto rates "now or in the near future" and said there was an urgent need "to lower truck tolls to induce truckers to use the system."

The commission is expected to take up the toll question and the Justice Department ruling at its meeting tomorrow.

Power Is Transferred

Cohen's ruling gave the Highways Department authority to maintain the turnpike, locate future extensions, supervise construction and control rights of way purchases and construction costs.

However, the turnpike commission must still finance any projects. In a formal opinion requested by Lawler on June 26, Cohen ruled that the original turnpike law of 1937 and a 1945 court decision "clearly state" that the Highways Department had the responsibility of maintaining the road.

The Turnpike Commission has maintained the superhighway as an allied work since it was opened in 1940.

Cohen cited a court decision whereby the chief engineer of the Turnpike Commission could not change provisions of a construction contract without approval of the highways department.

That decision also spelled out a provision of the original law designating the department as responsible for "all maintenance work."

The ruling will apply immediately to the awarding of three contracts totaling 2 million dollars for resurfacing of 40 miles of roadway in western Pennsylvania.

The Turnpike Commission recently received new bids for the work after the Justice Department objected to previous bids called for without public notice. The new bids are still pending before the commission.

In another development a Republican lawmaker asked McSorley to withdraw his opposition to the proposed construction of medical barriers on straight stretches of the turnpike.

Sen. Whalley (R-Somerset) said state police records show that 12 persons have been killed in traffic crashes on the highway in Bedford County in the last two months. He said eight were killed when vehicles crossed the medial strip and collided with oncoming traffic.

S. S. Officials Will Convene On Friday

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP)—About 70 presidents and secretaries of county Sabbath School associations will open their annual three-day conference at Juniata College Friday.

Ira C. Sassaman, secretary of the Pennsylvania Council of Christian Education, said the meeting is aimed at helping the group "see and understand the importance of cooperative Christian education."

The Christian education leaders expected for the session represent about 10,000 Pennsylvania Sunday Schools.

SUMMON GROUP TO PROBE INTO COAL CAVE-INS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The joint state government commission today summoned a legislative committee for a meeting to organize an investigation of cave-ins due to coal mining.

Rep. Stank (D-Northumberland), said before the late afternoon session that he would suggest the committee begin public hearings in Wilkes-Barre "within two weeks."

Stank said he expected the committee also would hold sessions in Scranton and in Schuylkill County, possibly at Coaldale, to receive testimony on the problem.

The Legislature authorized a thorough study of subsidence due to mining operations and called upon the commission to report its findings and recommendations by next March 1.

Stank noted that last week Gov. Leader urged Congress to pass a bill that would provide federal aid for persons suffering damage due to subsidence.

Can Help People

"If the bill is worded correctly it could turn out to be a big help to people who have suffered damages," he said.

He added that he expected the commission study to concentrate on methods to prevent such damages.

"I don't know how many meetings we will have—we'll settle that at the organization meeting. But I would want to see them start right away," Stank declared.

The law authorizes the study to include the bituminous fields as well as the anthracite region. However, Stank said he had heard of no request for hearings in western Pennsylvania, and in fact, he was aware of no serious subsidence problems in the bituminous areas.

2 Guided Missile Frigates To Be Built

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has assigned construction of two guided missile frigates to the Philadelphia Naval Base under the 1957 naval construction program, it informed Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) today.

The department said the work was assigned in order to build and maintain capabilities at the shipyard for combatant ship construction.

CAN BANKRUPT STATE TURNPIKE

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP) — Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) says construction of the proposed Sharon - Stroudsburg "shortway" superhighway could "bankrupt" the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The veteran lawmaker said yesterday he is strongly opposed to constructing the road because it would have an adverse effect on the economy of his congressional district which includes Bedford, Somerset, Fulton, Franklin and Huntingdon counties.

The Bureau of Roads in Washington is now studying a state request that the proposed shortway route through northern Pennsylvania become part of the interstate system.

State Highways Secretary Joseph J. Lawler wrote the bureau asking that the route be substituted for U. S. 6 in the federal road building program.

Simpson, however, said a shortway would be of no benefit to Pennsylvania and called the proposal "a particularly disquieting example of boondoggling by the Democratic administration in Harrisburg."

He said the project would use federal funds that are needed to improve existing highways like U. S. 22, 30 and 6.

Two ferry boats now operate between Key West, Fla., and Cuba. They can carry several hundred passengers, about 100 automobiles, and if needed, some railroad cars. The average cost of drilling a natural gas well is $100,000.

SAYS GOP WILL "SOFT-PEDAL" REDS IN 1956

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This year the Republicans will probably soft-pedal the Communists-in-government charge which they found so useful in the last two elections.

In the 1952 campaign, when Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin was still a Republican hero, they did their best to create suspicion about the willingness of the Truman administration to get rid of Reds.

In the 1954 congressional election they trotted out figures to show how many dangerous characters they had ousted under President Eisenhower's new loyalty-security program.

Those figures came back to haunt the Republicans. As has been pointed out many times since, by Democrats and by newspapers, the figures were misleading when used to imply disloyalty or subversion.

Grouped Subversives
Under one general head of security risks they bunched possible subversives with drunks, homosexuals, loudmouths and general misfits. The Democrats put a name on this whole business: a "numbers racket."

The Supreme Court ruled Eisenhower's program went too far in trying to cover too many jobs. And Eisenhower has appointed a special commission to study his program.

The Democrats weren't going to allow the Republicans a repeat performance in 1956, if they could help it. They worked hard to back up their charges of distortion in the Republican figures.

They may have thought a new investigation would expose a gold mine. They gave this job to the Senate's Post Office and Civil Service Committee headed by Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC).

Misleading Figures
A subcommittee did the investigating. Its work has been something less than sensational although it held 19 days of hearings and questioned 73 witnesses. But it did find how misleading some of the figures were.

Now it has issued a 549-page report which no one will read unless he has to. It is one of the most disorganized, disjointed and meandering reports this writer has ever seen come out of a congressional committee.

Nevertheless, it has some ammunition Democrats can use against Republicans if they try talking numbers this year. The subcommittee turned savagely on Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission.

It's Young's commission which periodically produced the figures on the number of those let out of the government under Eisenhower's program.

"Basically Dishonest"
The subcommittee said Young, "a personal adviser to the President... deliberately compiled figures which are basically dishonest." As an example of what it meant:

The commission reported that between May 28, 1953, and Jan. 30, 1955, there were 3,586 government employees "terminated because of security questions."

The committee says actually only 343—less than 10 per cent of the 3,586—were let out under Eisenhower's program. The rest were handled under normal civil service procedures. And some of the 343 were rehired.

The subcommittee said the com-

SANTA FE TRAIN JUMPS TRACKS; 19 ARE INJURED

CARROLLTON, Mo. (AP)—The Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief struck an iron bar and careened off the tracks at the edge of Carrollton last night, injuring at least 19 of the 200 passengers.

Those hospitalized with injuries included:

Mrs. John Cumming, Greensburg, Pa., and Anna Hunschild, Tamaqua, Pa.

Two of the four diesel locomotive units overturned. All 13 cars were derailed, some bumping to a stop at angles to the torn-up tracks.

An oil fire in the locomotive was put out quickly by Carrollton firemen. Townspeople swarmed to the scene to help the passengers.

One Critical
Nineteen injured were admitted to three Carrollton hospitals, where attendants said one was in critical condition.
